Good business software does more than just help you manage your accounts. It gives you the breathing space to concentrate on what's most important to you, and allows you to bring your business ideas to life.

We've been designing business management software since 1981. We listen to what our customers have to say about our software and continually look for ways to make it work even harder for you.

Sage 50 Accounts 2010 is full of practical thinking to help you manage your finances faster, smarter and more efficiently.

New business thinking

Sage 50 Accounts 2010 has been designed with your business in mind. We've done some really detailed thinking about all the little things that can make a big difference to save you time and help you run your business more efficiently.

Specially designed for small and growing businesses, Sage 50 Accounts helps you manage your customers and suppliers and day-to-day finances, including VAT returns and year-end accounts. It helps you stay in control of your finances and share information with your accountant, leaving you free to concentrate on running your business.

Thinking finances

What's new?

Managing your day-to-day finances, keeping track on what goes in and goes out and dealing with things like profit and loss is really easy with Sage 50 Accounts 2010. By keeping things simple, doing your accounts isn't such a time-consuming job.

Want to know at a glance where your money is, what's due, what's overdue and what's expected? Or delve deeper into costs for individual projects and departments across your business? Sage 50 Accounts 2010 has all the tools to help you.

- The new cash register makes it even easier for you to account for your money. Simply import or print off and enter your figures at the end of the day to make sure your accounts are correct before banking the cash. You can record any discrepancies and account for your floats too.

Thinking customers

What's new?

Maintaining good relationships with your suppliers and attracting new customers is a key aspect of business growth. Sage 50 Accounts 2010 goes far beyond a simple contact list. Matching your customer information up with your financial records means it's easier to manage credit control. See what's been promised and what's overdue so you know who to chase for payments.

It also helps you make the most of each sale by turning quotes into invoices or deal quickly and easily with discounts and deposits.

- To help you get your cash more quickly, there's a new 'pay now' option that you can add to your electronic invoices as part of Sage Pay. Refunds are more straightforward too as you can put a payment or credit directly back onto a card.
- The profit button is now available in all variants of Sage 50 Accounts 2010. It gives you an instant view of how much you'll make on each item or order before you commit to a price.
- We've also improved the payment processing screens so now you can sort and filter data to find what you're looking for. Search by due date; find the most recent, view by customer and many other variables.
- We've made it easier to manage repeat or recurring transactions too. Now you can edit them rather than creating new ones, if you need to change a date, for example.

Thinking business

What's new?

By streamlining your day-to-day processes, Sage 50 Accounts 2010 is designed to give you more time to think about your business.

Reports are a great way of understanding what's going on in your business. Sage 50 Accounts helps make them easy to prepare and even easier to understand.

There are a selection of standard reports ready to go or you can design your own, so you get the information you need the way you need it. Just get the top level overview or use in-depth facts and figures to understand your business, analyse new opportunities and spot risks before they turn into problems.

- Sage 50 Accounts 2010 includes some real improvements to help you import information from a wide variety of different sources including Microsoft® Excel. That's useful if you need to gather details from different projects or departments.
- There's a new Wizard to get you started, and once you've matched the fields in your data to the fields in your Sage 50 Accounts, you can save your settings and import it the same way every time.

Thinking legislation

Stay on the right side of the law at home...

We help thousands of UK businesses successfully submit information and payments to HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) online. That accredited technology is an integral part of Sage 50 Accounts 2010, designed to help you submit your VAT returns online with complete peace of mind and minimum effort.

Many small businesses will have to file online by law in 2010, and with Sage 50 Accounts 2010 you can do it with confidence.

...and abroad

For those of you who trade with the European Community, Sage 50 Accounts 2010 has all the tools to help you record and submit the right information the right way.

With important new legislation about goods and services due to come into force in January 2010, the new version of Sage 50 Accounts 2010 brings you right up to date.

Thinking time

What's on your mind every day? Serving your customers, keeping things ticking over and dealing with the thousand and one things that crop up? Sage 50 Accounts 2010 is full of little things that make the day-to-day easier to deal with.

There's an in-built diary that helps you make the most of your time and reminds you to follow up on things like customer calls or overdue payments.

And simply keeping all your financial information in one place can save you a lot of time and effort.

- Barcodes provide an easy way to track and trace products and documents, create accurate pick lists or speed up stock takes. Use them on delivery notes and your customers can check they've received everything they've ordered too. That's why we've added the ability to turn any text into a barcode ready for printing to Sage 50 Accounts 2010.
